A Special Mission

It's holiday, my father is going to take us on a trip. My sister and I are responsible for planning the trip, with the constraint that the travel expenses cannot exceed RM 1,000. "Money do not come easy, they need to be spent wisely," Dad said. We were full of joy and immediately went online to search for information.

My sister hopes to go to Taiping and Batu Gajah in Perak. Although Taiping does not have grand buildings, it has lush green century-old trees and charming scenery. The mining lake in Batu Gajah has the last metal mining vessel, a relic of the tin mining industry that is also worth visiting.

我特别爱观察动植物。上次我去了有机蔬果园，

I especially love to observe animals and plants. Last time I went to the organic fruit and vegetable garden, I saw eggplant, cassava, papaya and other fruits and vegetables with my own eyes. I learnt that papaya trees are differentiated into male and female! This time I want to go to the farm in Kluang to see flocks of sheep running in the green field, and then to see the process of milking and disinfecting the sheep. I also want to go to the organic padi field ecological farm. During the day, I can learn how to grow rice; at night, I can dine under the candle light and sleep in a tent. How fun!

In the end, my sister and I chose to go to Taiping, because there are lakes and mountains that my sister likes, and there is also a zoo that I want to go to. After my father read the information we collected, he allowed us to go to Taiping. My sister and I cheered!

At night, I happily recite a children's poem:

It's holiday,

The little stars are out.

Some play hide and seek in the dark forest,

Some look at their own reflection in the lake,

Some go swimming in the Milky Way,

Wherever they are,

They make the place lively.
